

SEPTEMBER 22nd

From aristocracy to Jewish East End - Stepney Green

CHEQUES AND FOOD CHOICES TO ARRIVE BY Sun 23rd August

Originally fields although we'll find none of those today. What we will find however, are cobbled streets and even they have a story to tell - have you ever seen any of this colour? We have outstanding houses from the 17th & 18th centuries that speak to us of the merchants and seafarers who wanted to be close to the docks. We move to see the buildings that catered for the Jewish poor in the 19th century - a school, a synagogue and Industrial housing. The 20th century brings us a meeting place that ended in a mutiny and today we stand on top of Crossrail. Come and see a tiny corner of London that has a surprise at every turn.
