

Walk 1 Sunday April 12th.

The Old University Quarter

For our first outing in 2026 we take a new look at Bloomsbury and the Old University Quarter. We'll hear about the formation of the University and discover why it has no students! We'll see colleges that offer education to working people, research solutions to tropical diseases and have provided Oscar winners. We'll hear about activities in World War Two and meet characters as diverse as George Orwell and Charles Darwin. We'll also be keeping a lookout for owls, horses, a building with a public apology and a home for Batman! Come and enjoy this charming and quiet part of London and we promise that there will be no exams or essay questions to follow.
